MANAGEMENT POLICY

1. Basic management policy

Nintendo Co., Ltd. (“the Company”) and its consolidated subsidiaries (together with the Company, “Nintendo”) strive to create new and unique hardware systems and interactive video games, utilizing advanced computer technology in both the home entertainment and handheld gaming environments.

Nintendo seeks to provide consumers with a “world of entertainment”, which is both innovative and fun with creative elements they have never experienced.

2. Basic policy of profit distribution

It is the Company’s basic policy to internally provide the capital necessary to fund future growth, including capital investments, and to maintain a strong and liquid financial position. From our shareholders’ perspective, it is our policy to keep the level of dividends stable for a long period of time.

Retained earnings are maintained for development of new products, capital investments, reinforcement of sales systems, and the possibility of a common stock share buyback.

3. View and policy of stock trading unit reduction

To assist new investors and to make the Company's common stocks more widely available, the Company changed the number of stock trading units from 1,000 shares to 100 shares in 1991. A further reduction of stock trading units would require a significant amount of cost and will require in-depth consideration from cost-effectiveness and stock liquidity viewpoints.

4. Medium and long term management strategy and challenges

In today's competitive video game market, dramatic improvements have been made in hardware capabilities by utilizing new technologies; however, it is becoming increasingly more difficult to create new and unique games which utilize the full capabilities of the new hardware. Nintendo is focusing more time and more resources on developing a new world of video game entertainment featuring its well-known franchise of characters while creating new characters and game concepts. The Company has expanded and strengthened its R&D functions and works constantly to increase its profits through innovation and cost management.

OPERATING RESULT

1. Review of operations

During the fiscal year ended March 31, 2002, the Japanese economy was depressed because of lower personal consumption and a general decline in corporate earnings resulting from a longer than anticipated business slump. Outside of Japan, the United States economy was temporarily slowed down by reduced spending, particularly in Information Technology sector and by the September 11 terrorist attacks. The United States economy is slowly recovering. Although the European economy also declined, unemployment stayed about the same and Europe is now showing signs of a business upturn.

The video game industry has attracted more attention with new products and a new competitor.

During the most recent fiscal year, Nintendo launched GAME BOY ADVANCE (a new handheld system) in The Americas and the European markets, and launched NINTENDO GAMECUBE (a new home entertainment console) in the domestic and The Americas markets. Nintendo delivered to consumers two exciting new game systems along with the best software ever.

As a result, net sales for the year ended March 31, 2002 were 554.8 billion yen, including foreign sales of 411.3 billion yen, which accounted for 74.1% of consolidated net sales. Income before income taxes and extraordinary items was 186.6 billion yen which reflects the drop in the yen exchange rate. Net income was 106.4 billion yen.

With respect to sales by business category, in the electronic entertainment products division, GAME BOY ADVANCE sales increased as popular software titles like “Super Mario Advance” and “Mario Kart Advance” were well received by consumers. The transition from the previous GAME BOY COLOR hand-held hardware system made progress. With respect to NINTENDO GAMECUBE, the exclusive software title “Smash Brothers DX” sold more than one million units both in the domestic market and in The Americas. “Animal Forest + (plus)”, which may connect GAME BOY ADVANCE and NINTENDO GAMECUBE, became popular as a completely new gaming experience in the domestic market. Total net sales in the electronic entertainment products division were 552.7 billion yen, while sales in other products division (playing cards, karuta, etc.) were 2.1 billion yen.

With respect to geographic segment information, net sales in each segment (domestic, The Americas, and Europe) increased, due principally to the release of NINTENDO GAMECUBE (domestic and The Americas) and GAME BOY ADVANCE (Europe) hardware and software.

2. Cash Flows

Cash and cash equivalents at March 31, 2002 increased 77.1 billion yen from the previous fiscal year-end, to 863.1 billion yen, as the increase from operating activities exceeded the decrease from investing and financing activities.

Cash flows from operating activities:

Net cash provided by operating activities was 56.2 billion yen. Income before income taxes and minority interests was 183.0 billion yen, which included 42.0 billion yen from unrealized foreign exchange gains. The Company also paid out 109.7 billion yen in income taxes which affected cash flows from operating activities.

Cash flows from investing activities:

Net cash used in investing activities was 5.1 billion yen. Payments were made for new production facilities and the purchase of securities, while time deposits decreased.

Cash flows from financing activities:

Net cash used in financing activities was 17.1 billion yen, due mainly to 16.9 billion yen payment of cash dividends.

3. Annual Outlook

In the current video game market, it is absolutely necessary to develop exciting and amusing software in order to attract new consumers. It is also important to reduce hardware costs.

Taking these perspectives into consideration, Nintendo will make every effort to develop new systems, software and other products which will take full advantage of our existing hardware. We will also start to produce NINTENDO GAMECUBE hardware in China.
